HITLER TO TAKE SUDDEN AREA

FRANCE, BRITAIN WILL GO TO AID OF CZECHS IF ATTACKED

FLAT STATEMENT ISSUED BY BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE
MONDAY AFTERNOON

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—An official statement issued today said that if, in spite of all efforts made by Prime Minister Chamberlain, Germany were to attack Czechoslovakia France would go to the aid of the little republic and that Britain would stand by France.

The foreign office statement added "it is not too late to stop this great tragedy and for the people of all nations to insist on settlement by free negotiation."

Britain made it clear tonight that Britain and Soviet Russia would join France in a triple front to aid Czechoslovakia in the event of a German invasion.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha today called out officers and men of the anti-aircraft and coast defense units of Britain's territorial army.

This is a reserve force charged with manning all anti-aircraft guns, searchlights and air defenses.

All regular Royal Air Force men on leave and Royal Air Force observation corps also were called.

Authorities stressed that both measures were purely precautionary and did not constitute mobilization.

They came while a trusted envoy took Adolf Hitler a last-stand message from Britain and France and after Prime Minister Chamberlain had summoned parliament for Wednesday.

"Royal Air Force precautions also included institution of an air raid warning system."

At the request of the Food Defense Plans Committee, produce exchanges throughout the country agreed to hold down the prices of bacon, ham, butter, cheese, lard, cooking fats and margarine to their present levels for two weeks.

King George VI canceled his visit to Glasgow to attend the opening of the new liner, Queen Elizabeth, Queen Elizabeth will go alone tomorrow.

Winston Churchill issued a demand for a "French-British-Russian warning to Germany that they would fight for Czechoslovakia."

The fiery cabinet veteran, this time on the outside looking in, followed up his demand with a call on Chamberlain.

Before he left, Clement R. Attlee, opposition leader in parliament, and Laborite Arthur Greenwood called at No. 10 Downing Street, causing speculation that the possibility that a "war cabinet" was being discussed.

On Wednesday, the whole story of Chamberlain's dramatic flight to Berchtesgaden and Godesberg will be put before both houses of parliament by the only man who can tell it—Chamberlain.

Another Personal Appeal to Hitler

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain sent a new, personal appeal to Chancellor Hitler today after consultation with the French premier, Daladier.

Sir Horace Wilson of the foreign office left by air this morning for Berlin with a personal letter to Hitler, the nature of which was not revealed.

The letter was said to have had the full approval of the

AMERICAN FEDERATION LABOR OFFICIAL ATTACKS GOVERNMENT REGULATION WAGES, RELATIONS

HOUSTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—John P. Frey, chief of the A. F. of L. metal trades department, attacked federal regulation of wages and industrial relations today and called for greater cooperation between labor and industry.

In his annual report to the American Federation of Labor, Frey said that the trade union movement was founded on "self government in industry instead of government by bureaus and administrators."

The Congress, he declared, would do much to prevent recurring depressions by establishing "the proper and adequate rules under which business is to be conducted."

"Business and organized labor through the conference room and collective bargaining, must then work out the problem of stable production and the economically sound division of the wealth being created," he said.

Frey's report criticized both the wage-hour law and the national labor relations act. "The administration of the latter, he said, was a 'disrupting' factor in American industry."

"Both the law and the person-

GERMAN MAN IN THE STREET DREADS WAR BUT BEING MISLED

MISINFORMATION IS BEING
SPREAD AMONG GENERAL
CITIZENSHIP OF NATION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
BERLIN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Sitting opposite me on a train from Cologne yesterday was a German in his early forties who had old soldier written all over him. He was a fine looking chap despite rather terrible scars on his face. The way he carried his head over square shoulders bespoke one used to command.

Every time we halted at a station he hurried out and came back with the latest editions of Berlin newspapers. He would glance eagerly at front page headlines, then the journals aside. In the train he sat looking grimly out the window. He wasn't looking at anything—just gazing into space. It was easy to read his mind. He was watching for a possible declaration of European hostilities. His mind was back in the holocaust of twenty-odd years ago and the stench of the battlefield was in his nostrils. That was when he was very young—before he married and babies came. He dreads to get a call to arms.

That is the feeling I found when traveling about the main street and his wife are quick to tell you they don't want war. However, they're just as quick to say that the men of the Fatherland will fight if war comes out of the Czechoslovak situation.

Has Become Holy Cause

Carrying aid to the Sudeten Germans has become a Holy cause to the people of the homeland. Strains in the labor movement, newspapers recounting constantly what they term persecution of the Sudeten, fan the indignation of the German public. Sometimes the headlines are red and their language is no less fiery.

A workman told me Sunday in a voice breaking with emotion: "The Czechs must be very terrible folk. They killed more than 300 more of our people last night. I don't know where he got this story, for it was a different version of affairs from which I had seen. However, the thing which seems to matter is that workers in a shoddy industry of this country have

SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMEN STARTS AFTER MAN KILLS HIMSELF

ONE BODY FOUND; ANOTHER SOUGHT; FIVE MORE WOMEN MISSING

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Searched for the bodies of five women who were missing after a man killed himself, police today said. The body of another woman was found near Ingleside.

Deputy Sheriff J. J. Klevenhagen said officers were inquiring also into the whereabouts of five other women, four of them former employees of a local tavern keeper, who shot himself to death with a pistol while he was being questioned.

Officers planned to go to Ingleside on the Gulf coast tomorrow in their search for Minnie Gehardt. Five hours after Ball killed himself, they found the body of a woman tentatively identified as Hazen Brown, 22, of McDade, in a shallow grave in brushy ranchland two miles from Ball's Elmhurst tavern.

Klevenhagen said Elmer Wheeler, a negro laborer, made a statement that Ball killed Miss Brown, forced him to aid in the dismemberment of the body with a meat saw, and in the burial of the remains. After the slaying, Wheeler said, the torso was "stuffed into an iron barrel several days before Ball ordered her buried."

Another employee, Minnie Gehardt, was slain after a swimming and drinking party at the seashore. Wheeler told Klevenhagen that Ball ordered her buried at Ingleside, about 150 miles southeast of here.

Meanwhile officers were seeking the four other former employees and a friend of Minnie Gehardt, known only as "Stella." Wheeler said his last recollection of having seen Stella was when she and Ball quarreled over her threat to ask police to inquire in-

MAN FATALLY SHOT EARLY MONDAY AT HOME NEAR DAWSON

WIFE CHARGED WITH MURDER AND BOND IS SET AT ONE THOUSAND

DAWSON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Clinton (Buddy) Hill, about 25 years old, was fatally shot about 7 o'clock Monday morning at the family home near Stansell, about four miles south of Dawson. His wife, Mrs. Goldie Hill, was charged with murder and her bond was set at $1,000 according to Justice of the Peace J. D. Vance of the Dawson precinct.

Judge Vance said that Hill was shot one time with a small caliber pistol, the bullet striking him under the pit of the left arm, emerging on the right side below the ribs, and then penetrating his right forearm. His body was taken to a Hubbard funeral home.

The justice of the peace said that he went to the scene of the shooting and held an inquest, and a verdict was returned by a coroners' jury of "death from gunshot wounds inflicted at the hands of his wife, Goldie."

Judge Vance said the evidence developed at the hearing indicated the shooting resulted from domestic troubles. Mrs. Hill is reported to have started to some of her relatives in Limestone county before she was shot.

PRESIDENT MAKES APPEAL FOR PEACE TO HITLER-BENES

GOVERNMENTS ASKED NOT TO BREAK OFF NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull extended today the scope of President Roosevelt's appeal for world peace to include Poland and Hungary.

He said instructions had been sent to American Ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., at Warsaw, Poland, and to Minister John F. Montgomery at Budapest, Hungary, to deliver to those governments copies of the urgent plea for peace, which President Roosevelt sent earlier today to Germany, Czechoslovakia, France and Great Britain.

He said no such instructions were sent to Moscow.

President Roosevelt decided today to hold a special cabinet meeting tomorrow to consider the crisis in Europe.

White House aides said the cabinet had been moved up from Friday to Tuesday because of conditions abroad.

The President, they added, was keeping in touch with reports from Europe as they came in, minute by minute.

Speaking in the name of 130,000,000 Americans, the President appealed early this morning directly to Adolf Hitler, Benes of Czechoslovakia, and President Benes of Czechoslovakia, that they stay out of war.

Copies of his appeal, to avoid the "unpleasant horror" of war, went also to French and English governments.

France Responds Quickly

At the White House, it was said, France responded quickly to the dramatic message. Whether the French note will be made public here is up to the state department, however.

White House officials said the President, working in his study alone from 10 o'clock until midnight last night had drafted in longhand his appeal for peace.

His message dispatched dramatically in the early morning hours directly to Hitler and Benes and through Secretary of State Hull to Premiers Chamberlain of

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR CHARLES SMITH MONDAY AFTERNOON

LAD DIES IN MARLIN RESULT INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO CRASH

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Charles Smith, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, from the family residence, 204 First avenue. The boy died in a Marlin hospital early Sunday morning from injuries sustained in an automobile crash at Hammond, between Bremond and Calvert, early Friday night, when eight others were injured.

The rites were conducted by Rev. O. W. Reese, pastor of the First Christian Church. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Surviving are his parents, a sister and brother, all of Corsicana; grandfather, Arthur S. Smith, San Antonio, and other relatives.

Pallbearers were Robert Cason, Dallas Harmon, Allen Brethaupt and Robert Layton.

Corley Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

The father of the boy is still confined in a Marlin sanitarium in a serious condition with pelvic injuries, a broken nose, burns, and other injuries but attending physicians said he was resting better Monday afternoon although still in a serious condition. He was reported suffering a concussion when brought to the hospital Friday night but this condition has cleared.

Lyman Barnes is also at Marlin in a critical condition. Attending physicians said that he had never regained consciousness since being brought to the hospital; his appearance was reported better Monday.

George McPherson, another occupant of the car, was reported improving nicely. His fractured jaw was set in Sunday operation and he would be able to be moved home within the next few days.

John Mayfield and Frank Briggs received minor hurts in the crash. The four occupants of the other car figuring in the accident escaped with minor

MUSSOLINI TELLS BRITAIN AND FRANCE TO ABANDON CZECHS

IL DUCE SAYS CZECHOSLOVAKIA
WOULD NOT FIGHT
GERMANY ALONE

By RICHARD G. MASSOCCO
VERONA, Italy, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today advised France and Britain to advise Czechoslovakia to her fate.

He suggested in a speech before 47,000 fascists that war might thus be entirely averted since Czechoslovakia perhaps might recognize the futility of fighting Germany alone.

Il Duce implied he saw no reason for resistance to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's demands.

"The German memorandum does not deviate from the line which was approved at the London meeting," he declared, referring to Hitler's Godesberg memorandum and the Anglo-French proposals previously submitted to the Prague government.

"There are still several days to reach a peaceful solution," he said. "If this is not achieved, it is aimed at beyond human power to prevent conflict."

Directing his speech at Italy's "adversaries," he declared that "a new Europe" might be created this week.

He said Italy stood for a "new Europe" which would replace the "dying" one constructed at Versailles.

"It is useless for diplomats to try to save Versailles," he asserted.

CLAIMED GERMAN AND ITALIAN CHALLENGE TO UNITED STATES INTEREST SOUTH AMERICA NEAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Some students of international affairs here say a German and Italian challenge to the United States' interests in South America steadily is drawing closer.

This theme is discussed at length in an editorial survey of the international situation in the issue of the Army and Navy Journal which though not an official publication often reflects the views of service circles.

Within the scope of German and Italian ambitions in Pan-America, the journal said.

"The propaganda of the dictators has been lost upon it, fascist coups have been attempted in Brazil and Chile, and there is

CLIMBING STORY IS BEHIND PEACE APPEAL OF PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO TWO NATIONS

By ANDRUE BERDING
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The story behind President Roosevelt's dramatic appeal for peace is a gripping one.

Feeling the crisis approaching, Secretary Hull determined six weeks ago to lay down the principles for which the United States stood. This he did August 15 in a radio address setting forth a seven-point program for peace.

Then, as the crisis grew, the question arose as to whether the government was to say anything more.

Hull, consulting the president, decided he had said what there was to be said and would stand on it.

Mr. Roosevelt, at a press conference two weeks ago, said reports the United States had disinterested itself from Europe's travail and would hold absolutely aloof.

The president, however, was seeking to create a position of absolute neutrality so that if and when the moment came to make an appeal for peace, an unbiased stand would make it more effective.

If he had cast the United States definitely on the side of Britain, France and Czechoslovakia the appeal could logically have been made only to those friends.

From that time on Mr. Roosevelt and Hull considered whether to make the appeal. They waited and said nothing. The president cancelled two press conferences, refused comment at another. Hull was Sphinxlike at his daily conferences.

The timing was all important. They felt the effect of an appeal would be lost if made too soon, but it would be tragic to wait too long.

They finally decided the moment had come.

DESPERATE EFFORTS BEING MADE PREVENT OUTBREAK OF WAR

MUCH OF EUROPE ALREADY
UNDER ARMS IN FEAR
CONFLICT CERTAIN

By The Associated Press.
Two mighty appeals for peace reached Reichsfuehrer Hitler today as Europe fearfully approached the deadline he has set for his "final" demands on Czechoslovakia.

A British envoy flew to Berlin with an urgent, personal message from British Prime Minister Chamberlain.

President Roosevelt implored the Fuehrer and President Benes of Czechoslovakia to make peace "before, rather than after war."

The British envoy handed Hitler Chamberlain's message before the German Chancellor's anxiously-awaited speech to the nation tonight.

Swift developments heightened the most electric tension the world has known since 1914.

Premier Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet flew home from two-day conferences with British ministers at which they reached agreement on joint diplomatic and military measures.

The French army commander was left behind to co-ordinate with the British both nations' armed forces—men, ships and fighting planes.

Quickly after the French ministers' return, plans were disclosed for at least partial evacuation of Paris. France continued swelling her army of 2,000,000 men.

In London, meanwhile, the British parliament was called back from recess to meet Wednesday.

Defense Minister Calthorpe said Britain called out officers and men of anti-aircraft and coastal defense units of her territorial army and cancelled leave of regular Royal Air Force men.

Steps were taken to control food prices.

Emergency preparations assumed almost wartime dimensions. The cabinet and the inner cabinet met. The prime minister and war minister, Lord Halifax, and war minister, Lord Halifax, awaited Hitler's word, anxious to know whether they must despair of peace after next Saturday.

Both President Roosevelt and Chamberlain begged Hitler for moderation.

The president's message was addressed to a Germany insistent that Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland be ceded to her by next Saturday. The dictator, mobilized Czechoslovakia which was reliably said to have rejected Hitler's terms.

It came while British and French ministers were meeting in their second pre-dawn conference, nine days, while British warships were at sea, French troops under

Hitler Speaks

Adolf Hitler, seemingly backed by the entire German nation, said in a broadcast address from Berlin tonight that the territorial claim on Czechoslovakia was the last he would make, but was one he would not give up. The talk generally recalled past history and stated Germany and Italy would be able to stand together and defend demands.

PRESIDENT BENES OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA SEES PEACE CHANCE

REPLIES TO ROOSEVELT; NATION PREPARES FOR WAR; AWAITS HITLER TALK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—President Benes of Czechoslovakia told President Roosevelt today he believed that the Czech-German dispute could be settled "without resort to force."

He added, however, "the Czechoslovak nation would defend itself were it attacked."

Benes' statement was in reply to a dramatic plea from President Roosevelt that the German and Czechoslovakian nations settle their differences peacefully.

Czechoslovakia, Benes said, "is profoundly convinced with you that in the end war solves no problem and that is a case in which reason, a sense of humanity and the principle of justice should triumph."

Benes' was the third favorable reply received at the White House, the others coming from Britain and France.

LONG SPEECH ENDS WITH DECLARATION OF PLANNED ACTION

HINTS ITALY WILL COME TO AID OF GERMANS IN PROGRAMS

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler declared tonight that "I have decided that we shall place" the Sudeten region of Czechoslovakia "under German sovereignty" and added that if President Benes "does not want peace we will have to take matters into our own hands."

The leader of Germany told a cheering throng in the Sportspalast that the memorandum he handed Prime Minister Chamberlain at Godesberg Friday "is the last and final one."

He asserted, however, that it was "nothing but what Benes promised" in the Prague government acceptance Sept. 21 of the first Anglo-French plan.

Further he asserted that "the final outlining of the border" between Germany and Czechoslovakia "I gladly give to the citizens there," using the precedent of the Saar region for a plebiscite.

Hitler ended his address "to the entire Reich" at 9:34 p. m. (3:34 p. m. EST). He had spoken an hour and 45 minutes.

Germany and Italy "will stand together and be able to defend themselves as a solid bloc if the worst comes to the worst," Hitler said as to whether there would be war or peace.

MANY FINGERPRINT RECORDS RECEIVED BY STATE POLICE

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—(Sp.)—State police identification officials reported today that 149,834 fingerprint records had been received from police of Texas and the nation since the bureau was created three years ago.

Colonel H. H. Carmichael, state police director, said fiscal year reports showed that 24,982 personal fingerprint records were in the state police files and have been instrumental in the identification of 27 civilians otherwise unknown. The remainder of the records relate to criminals and are kept apart from the personal identification files.

Included in the reports were records of the thefts of 11,347 automobiles in the three-year period and notices of 2,083 other property thefts. Automobile losses decreased 25 per cent the past year when 3,295 were reported stolen. Photographs of criminals numbered 22,319 and criminal records received from the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington totaled 111,836.

Early last year, the director said, a single fingerprint system was installed for the identification of criminals who leave their fingerprints at scenes of crimes. In this particular file there are 23,750 records.

The records stated that 980 examinations of questioned handwriting and type-writing documents were made by experts of the bureau. Identifications of fugitives increased 814 per cent during the past fiscal year.

Colonel Carmichael pointed out that the state identification bureau serves as a centralized clearing point for officers of Texas and has furnished identifications of hundreds of fugitives captured in Texas and other states providing less expensive means for transmission of information and quicker identifications than were had before its installation.

VIEWS OF POLITICIANS DIFFER ON EFFECTS OF CONVENTION'S HOWLING DOWN OF O'DANIEL

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—(Sp.)—About the statehouse, now that the dust has had time to settle, two views seem to prevail as to the possible effects of the rumpus at Beaumont on the relations of W. Lee O'Daniel with his first legislature.

One view is that the fact he was shouted down by the state democratic convention, at one stage of the proceedings, has seriously injured his prestige. Some say members of the legislature who had the Beaumont incident not occurred, might have been chary of opposing his program now will not be afraid to challenge him.

The other is that the convention happening is not any more serious than the usual scrapping in any convention of democrats, and will be forgotten as time goes along, and, anyhow, actions of the legislature depend on many more important matters.

Some take the position that O'Daniel had to come down from his pedestal some time and Beaumont was as good a place as any to make the descent.

They say he learned a lesson which ought to be valuable, a lesson in practical politics which may prove helpful between the present and the gathering of the legislature, as well as after the lawmakers convene.

This lesson is that he has many enemies who are waiting for a chance to cut his throat, that he must be on guard against them incessantly, that he must be prepared to fight and if a fight starts he must be ready to make it hotter for the other fellow than the fellow makes it for him.

An outstanding state official, who would not permit his name to be used, said after the convention there was nothing so remarkable about the mere fact O'Daniel was shouted down.

He reasoned O'Daniel and his friends should have had more sense than to attempt an appearance before the convention when a roll call was under way.

Most conventions, and certainly the Texas Legislature, can be depended on to fall into an uproar if anyone tries to interrupt the business of taking the vote after debate has ended.

The talking is supposed to be done during debate periods when everyone has equal opportunity to express opinion. The roll call is the process of making the decision.

Interruption of a roll call is, in fact, against all parliamentary rules.

Said the state official: "If I had tried to talk when O'Daniel did, I would surely have been shouted down just as he was. And so would anyone else."

O'Daniel received a courteous reception earlier in the day.

When he walked upon the rostrum, accompanied by Mrs. O'Daniel and the O'Daniel children, while a phonographic outfit played "Beautiful Texas," the packed hall of delegates and visitors stood and applauded.

Some might say the applause wasn't very warm but that probably would be a matter of opinion. It was applause and hearty enough.

O'Daniel read his address, which always is a bad form of delivery and usually doesn't cause much excitement among the listeners. An address which is read simply doesn't arouse much response, as a rule. It sounds dead.

Nevertheless, he was applauded frequently, and especially when he called for economy and efficiency in government. When he finished, he received a round of hand-clapping.

There was nothing markedly wrong with his reception.

One experienced observer commented that any of the delegates were the "same old guard," which had been attending state democratic conventions for many years.

He suggested this was to be expected largely because O'Daniel had no organization in his campaign and consequently made no effort to capture precinct conventions which choose delegates to the county conventions.

After O'Daniel won in the first primary, one of the first questions asked by men experienced with politics was who would control the state convention.

It was said generally there would be no attempt to deny O'Daniel's friends places in the state meeting, and him control of it; but it soon became apparent there would be difficulty in determining just who were O'Daniel's friends.

The rush to proclaim friendship for the successful nominee was well-nigh overwhelming.

The observer said the question as to who constituted O'Daniel's friends hadn't really been answered by the time the Beaumont convention was held and wasn't known after it.

Said one party and convention official to this writer before the convention: "O'Daniel doesn't have the least idea who are his friends."

U. S. Senator Tom Connally furnished an excellent example of a speaker who does not read his address but adapts it to his crowd as he goes along.

Connally put out advance copies of his speech but told press correspondents he didn't think much of it and probably would depart from it freely.

That's what he did.

He soon found a note that interested the crowd. It was the war situation in Europe. When he remarked that Europe's problems were Europe's alone and not ours, he received a roar of applause.

So he stepped back, paused and added that American would never send another boy overseas to die on a European battlefield. The applause increased.

Then Connally settled down and poured it on the European war lords and dictators, asserting, among other things, that America wouldn't send over any money and must build up its navy.

The crowd liked it and Connally gave the crowd what it liked. Almost none of it was in his prepared address.

CORSICANA BAND IS INVITED TAKE PART IN ROSE FESTIVAL

TYLER, Sept. 26.—(Sp.)—Invitations have been extended to thirty-three bands to take part in the floral parade of the Sixth Annual Texas Rose Festival, Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2. The parade will be staged Saturday morning, Oct. 1 at 10 o'clock, the procession passing in review through the downtown section of Tyler.

Three trophies will be awarded the bands as follows: one of the best marching band, another for the most attractively uniformed band, and third award, to the best drum major. The awards will be loving cups that the Rose Festival Association will present as permanent trophies.

Miss Mary Osborn, band leader of the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers' College, Nacogdoches, will lead the parade. This band, composed of twenty pieces, has been rehearsing for three weeks for the Rose Festival parade, and its members are planning to give spectators a fine presentation of musical and entertainment. The Stephen F. Austin band, nicknamed "Cox's Army" for its director, J. T. Cox, has a perfect uniform of purple and white.

Bands that have been invited to enter the parade are: Mexia, Overton, Henderson, Carlisle, Troup, Union Grove, Gladewater, Longview, Rocky Mountain, East Mountain, Salem, Gilmer, Texas, Gaston, Leverett's Chapel, Tyler Blue Brigade, Tyler High School, Houston, Indiana, New London, White Oak, Spring Hill, Jacksonville, Palestine, Greenville, Van, College of Marshall, Stephen F. Austin, Willsboro, Houston State Teachers College, Corsicana, Texas A. and M. "Aggie" band and the Tulsa University band.

GOOD SERVICES ON SUNDAY AT FULL GOSPEL CHURCH

The services at the Full Gospel church were well attended Sunday and the blessing of God rested on each service. God has blessed the services each night during the past week and greater things are expected this week. We urge one and all to be in every service.

On Monday night the evangelist, the Rev. James McKeehan, will use as a subject "The Work of the Holy Spirit." On Tuesday and Friday nights there will be special healing services. Also on Friday night the C. A.'s will have charge of the services. Come every night expecting a blessing.

"The Nation That Forget God" was the subject used on Sunday night. The Rev. McKeehan stated that just as the individual, so the nation must reap the seeds sown. That nation will be filled with turmoil, trouble, strife. May we all turn again to the God who created us that we may have "peace on earth" and good will toward men."

We welcome you to every service this week. —Reporter.

SUNDAY WAS HIGH POINT METHODIST CHURCH REVIVAL

Over 2700 people attended all services of the First Methodist church revival under the tent on North Beaton street Sunday. Of this number over 1200 were present for the night services. This is one-sixth of the total population of Corsicana. Over 10,000 people have attended all services of this revival since it started last Sunday, or nearly two-thirds of the total population of Corsicana.

Never before have such crowds attended revivals, and it looks like the day of the revival is not over, said Dr. Langston. Sunday was one of the high points of the revival with eight uniting with the church.

Sunday night, Dr. Roy A. Langston, the pastor, who is doing the preaching at night, preached a powerful sermon on "The Judgment Day." He stated that it was not popular this day and time to preach hell and judgment, but he said just as sure as there was a heaven that there was a hell, and he said it was his duty as a minister to warn people of their sins, call them back to God and prepare them to live so that they could face the judgment day as Christians. He stated that every knee would bow before Christ and stated that according to the Bible, nothing was more certain than the second coming of Christ and the judgment day.

At Sunday school W. H. Norwood, general Sunday school superintendent, presided and promotion day was observed. The message was brought by Rev. C. A. Calhoun. In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Langston spoke to a mass meeting of women and girls. The met met in the I. O. O. F. Hall in the afternoon. Large crowds attended the group prayer meetings in the afternoon and a large delegation of young people met with Mr. Cunningham in the afternoon.

Morning services were resumed Monday morning and there will be preaching this week each week day morning and at night at 7:30 o'clock. Great choir and congregational singing, assisted by a large orchestra Sunday night under direction of Mr. Cunningham. At the morning hour the pastor preached on "How to Bring Men to Christ."

HIGHWAY OFFICIAL INDICATES GAPS TO BE COMPLETED SOON

BRIDGE AND ROAD COMPLETION CELEBRATION WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Two of the more significant links in the welding of a greater Central Texas were forged on sites separated by some thirty miles Thursday afternoon and evening at celebrations over the completion of highway projects that took on greater importance as a result of pledges made publicly by members of the Highway Commission who attended the ceremonies.

"Maybe before the next persimmons fall we can close some more gaps in this great Central Texas Highway," was Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt's promise concerning open stretches in the pavement made at the meeting at Frost in the evening after he had followed over Highway 22 from the bridge over the Trinity River to the completion of the road in the immediate vicinity of the new structure.

At both of the highway celebrations, speakers from all communities stressed the greater possibilities open to all because of the opportunity for closer cooperation for the completion of projects. Quite noticeable at both celebrations were numerous Corsicana representatives in their bright, colorful shirts and other items of western attire as they advertised the coming exhibition of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show on October 5-8.

Largely Attended. At the Central Texas Highway Commission held under the western end of the new 2300 foot bridge across Chambers Creek on Highway 22 between Corsicana and Waco, the larger delegations coming from the two terminal points, Cayuga, and Trinidad. Prior to the actual ceremonies, the attendees enjoyed a soda water, music by the State Home, Corsicana High School, and Trinidad bands, all under the direction of Joel C. Trimble.

Guests of honor at both celebrations were Chairman Bobbitt, Commissioner Harry Hines, and Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer.

R. W. Knight, secretary of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, called the meeting to order and presented Beauford H. Jester of Corsicana as the master of ceremonies. Mr. Jester asserted there was little need to state the purpose of the day's activities, which realized the importance of the day and occasion for the finishing of the bridge forged a new and more binding link between the Navarro and Anderson county peoples.

Twelve Years Effort. Con Harding, Anderson county commissioner, represented Palestine for the occasion and asserted that the day marked the culmination of twelve years of effort. He recalled that one of the earliest moves for the road was a big barbecue at Wildcat Ferry when former governor Sterling was chairman of the highway commission.

The speaker said that he had always found the present highway commission to be progressive and courteous and it was their understanding of the importance of the highway and bridge that resulted in the improvements. He asserted that the highway was one of the most important units in the state and the entire state would derive much good from its completion.

Con Harding recalled Corsicana delegations' efforts for twelve or fifteen years, and stated that while all Anderson county officials had not always co-operated they did not express the feelings of the majority of the population of the county who truly appreciated the endeavors.

W. L. Tubbs was Cayuga and he stated that he was in the state in behalf of Tennessee Colony and Bethel as well and estimated that perhaps one-third of those in attendance at the celebration were from that section. He declared they were very grateful for the bridge and held high hopes that the authorities would see fit to complete the highway within the next future.

He recalled that when Anderson county first voted bonds for road improvements that Cayuga gave the largest majority for the funds. He stated that he was only three votes in opposition. He stated that he was an active efforts of County Judge E. H. Shelton of Anderson county, and Guy M. Gibson of Navarro county for special praise.

Comments on Construction Firm. He also paid tribute to the contracting firm, the John W. Abbott Construction Company, and Superintendent J. B. Clardy for their high type of work and courage in the face of opposition that stopped all work for periods of from one to three weeks during the course of the contract. He declared the highway commission and the people of Texas should commend the contractors for their spirit and work.

Chairman Jester stated that acceptance had been received from the highway commission but they had been delayed, and then introduced Commissioner Hines.

Mr. Hines declared that it was always a happy privilege to attend such high type of construction. It brought a greater realization of the additions made to the various communities involved. He declared that a spirit of co-operation had been responsible for the reality of the bridge and the road to the sponsors of the project who had brought before the commission the many factors and the mass of data necessary to secure approval of the project. He recalled his first visit to the entire project in company with J. N. Edens of Corsicana, and pointed out that the numbers of floods recorded during the construction of the project were the vindication of the expenditure needed, adding the 2300 foot structure cost approximately $112,000.

Pledges Best Efforts. The commissioner pledged the best efforts of the commission to the construction of one of the best highway systems in the United States for Texas within a few years and pointed out that some $280,000,000 had been spent for bridges alone in recent years and if the structures were placed end to end they would measure about 145 miles. He declared the main idea he had in mind was to see the taxpayer really secure dollar for dollar value.

He pointed out that Texas was one of the most diversified states in the nation with almost any climate, soil or national type of people available; with a population of some six to ten million people and space and produce for it to sixty millions. He declared it was the responsibility of the people of Texas to see that the laws, both moral and legal, were enforced so that the state might continue to be a land of opportunity.

Mr. Hines then dedicated the new bridge structure to "the use of posterity; to the satisfaction and comfort of all those generations to come," adding a hope that it would be useful in creating a greater brotherly love and that it would remain clear for its dedicated purpose, unmarked by murder on the highways.

Chairman Jester accepted the dedication with an expressed hope that the bridge would be able to live up to the high purposes outlined.

Judge John H. Sharp of Ennis, associate justice of the Supreme Court, then presented and then presented and then presented a native of these parts, and termed the completion of the bridge one of the most constructive projects carried out by the highway commission in the past five years.

"But we'd like to see just a little more cement on either side of the bridge," Judge Sharp continued, "and the bridge would be a native of these parts, and termed the completion of the bridge one of the most constructive projects carried out by the highway commission in the past five years."

In regard to the highway commission, he stated this body spent more money than any other branch of the state government and that he had never heard one word of scandal or gossip about the existence of the body, and while he pressed regret that the dedication of the Chambers Creek bridge should have been delayed so long, he stated he felt when he joined the commission that something should be done to get the Trinity River bridge, and after arriving Thursday had found there was still something to be done "before we can get the bridge open."

The commission head said his body knew there was yet a lot of work to be done but asked that they be given a little time, and co-operation in making revenue their growth getting slim. He asserted less than two of the five cent gasoline tax reached the highway department treasury. He pledged himself and the commission to filling the gaps in this sector at the earliest possible moment.

The highway engineer was then introduced and told his audience that the day marked the culmination of twelve years of hard work by many people, calling attention to the 2300 foot structure contained three and a half miles of bridge, 1800 cubic yards of concrete, and huge quantities of steel.

The engineer closed his remarks with the hope the contractor and the department had been successful in the day's work.

R. J. Potts of Waco was the next speaker and paid tribute to the work of the contractors and others who had made the project a reality. He also recalled earlier days in the county when there were no hard-surfaced roads at all.

Chairman Jester of the highway commission of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce for many years, was introduced to the crowd and given a big hand for his efforts in behalf of the project.

Mr. Jester adjourned the meeting after extending thanks to all of those who co-operated in the day's work, and many of those in attendance left immediately for Frost for the second program.

At Frost, the block of Main street in the heart of the business district recently paved was roped off and long tables stretched down the center of the concrete thoroughfare. The diners for the occasion. Several musical numbers were presented by the Hillsboro Junior College band.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. W. V. Bane of the Frost Methodist Church, and the meal was then served by the local business community. After the diners had finished, R. W. Knight of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, made several announcements regarding the highway project.

He declared there was no need to express the purpose of the meeting for the general knowledge of the event was responsible for the large crowd in attendance. He also declared the completion of the concrete highway between Corsicana and Hillsboro would mean much to all surrounding counties and to the state at large.

Band Director Ardles of Hillsboro was presented and led the group in singing "Hall, Hall, the Eyes Here," and "The Eyes of Texas."

Mayor E. D. McCormick of Frost was presented and declared the celebration was a historic day for the community. He brought a greater realization of the additions made to the various communities involved. He declared that a spirit of co-operation had been responsible for the reality of the bridge and the road to the sponsors of the project who had brought before the commission the many factors and the mass of data necessary to secure approval of the project. He recalled his first visit to the entire project in company with J. N. Edens of Corsicana, and pointed out that the numbers of floods recorded during the construction of the project were the vindication of the expenditure needed, adding the 2300 foot structure cost approximately $112,000.

tion of Hillsboro briefly expressed the thanks and appreciation of the Hills County people to Mayor R. Bruce McCormick of Blooming Grove who invited all those present to use the new highway to attend their annual community fair next week.

At this point, the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce quartet composed of Messrs. W. B. Wadell, E. E. Burkhardt, Norman Hardin, and M. A. Spurgeon, with Miss Carolyn Megarity at the piano, presented an "On the Oregon Trail," and as a finale sang, "Home On the Range" at the request of Chairman Jester.

Chairman Jester expressed the appreciation of the visitors to the ladies of Frost for the banquet and the presentation of the song "The Old Black Mare, She Ain't What She Used to Be." Harry Hines was the first to make a speech, and he was delighted at the spirit of celebration and comradeship evidenced, and called particular attention to the colorful garb of many of the Corsicans, and particularly members of the Corsicana Civitan Club.

Turning to highway affairs, Mr. Hines said the task of the commission was to take the money provided for roads and build highways for the greatest benefit to the most people. He paid tribute to the many pioneers for the many contributions they made to the state, and particularly to the young men and women who were now taking over the state, and he hoped that they would all join together in the work of building a better state.

Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, then spoke and pointed out that the history of progress was divided into the work of three groups, viz: the explorers, the pioneers, and the builders. He said in his opinion the first two groups had been completed and the reign of the builders had been under way less than twenty years.

Another was the task of the highway engineer, which exceeded the requirements of the traffic that could be conceived at that time. He said those roads are now obsolete and in many instances dangerous, and he also predicted that within the next quarter of a century science would be able to determine the ideal road.

Touching on roads of the future, he predicted that within a few years there would be four main road classifications, including the superhighways built for tremendous speeds and through travel; specially built truck highways for inter-community use, and finally a very comprehensive system of all-weather roads that would connect every town and the other lanes of traffic. He declared the farmers should not be satisfied until they had all-weather roads. He also stated the commission and every member of the department was co-operating and attempting to benefit by past experiences.

He said this time W. S. Sinton of Hillsboro, highway committee leader, County Judge Paul H. Miller of Corsicana, County Judge Perry Shipley of Hillsboro, and J. M. Dyer of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce were introduced.

As the concluding speaker, Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt said he hoped to see appropriate highways for the great heart of Texas sector, and appreciated the honor and privilege of being able to celebrate the completion of the new bridge. He extended greetings from Highway Commissioner John Wood.

The speaker recalled that some months ago he had told a delegation that the gap would be closed before the persimmons fell in the fall of 1938, and insisted he had made good on his pledge. He said the state had given much credit for the achievement to the co-operative effort of all interested groups.

Chairman Bobbitt insisted that every citizen of the highway commission and department were carrying out their jobs on a merit basis and not motivated by political favor.

There are still some more gaps to be filled, and maybe before another persimmon time we will be able to close some more gaps," he said. He stated the department received a big hand from the Corsicana group.

He declared the completion of highway 22 was a big thing for Corsicana, but he also pointed out that the state of the 254 counties of the state, the accomplishment was small. He insisted that with co-operation, the use of funds, and maintenance of good will, Texas would eventually have good roads. He urged consideration at all times for the needs and problems of other sections.

"We are trying to build a communication system for all Texas and there can be no partiality. We ask that you uphold our hands and help to protect our revenues for we cannot fill gaps or maintain highway without the necessary funds," the speaker continued, pointing out that the highway department received well under two cents of the five cent gasoline tax, and this amount was retained only by a constant war. Give us your help and we will try to do your job better," Mr. Bobbitt concluded, and the meeting was adjourned.

Additional Sisters Survive C. O. Noble In addition to the survivors of C. O. Noble, killed in the Daily Star Thursday, he is also survived by two other sisters, Mrs. V. T. Wright, Corsicana, and Mrs. J. B. Wells, Houston.

Mr. Noble died in Lake Charles, La., where he was buried. Funeral services were held Thursday.

GOVERNOR ALLRED WILL NOT RESIGN FROM GOVERNORSHIP

SAID FRIDAY HE WOULD SERVE OUT TERM BEFORE ASCENDING BENCH

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—(P)—Governor James V. Allred announced today he would serve out his term.

He said he would not resign before normal expiration of the term in January to become judge of a new federal court in South Texas to which he has been appointed by President Roosevelt.

Simultaneously the Governor hinted that he would make a special session of the legislature this fall, a matter over which there had been considerable speculation.

A number of his promises don't know of any promises made in a special session at this time," he said.

The governor's statement regarding his plans long had been awaited and many had thought he would make a special session for the new court as well as his desire to get on the new job as soon as possible he could resign before finishing his second term as chief executive.

"I am going to serve out my term as governor," he said.

The new court's first session opens next Monday.

A number of reasons were advanced by friends as influencing the governor's decision.

The controlling one was said to be the belief he ought not to relinquish such an important public office as the governorship until expiration of the period for which he had been chosen by the people.

Needs the Money. Another was that the governor would receive $187,500 a year more than as a federal district judge. The governor's salary is $12,000 a year while that of a judge is $10,000.

Finally, it was stated there was a question whether a recess appointee, such as the governor would be until his appointment as judge had been confirmed by the United States senate, would get any money at all until after the confirmation.

The governor has frequently said he was a "poor man" and dependent wholly on his salary for living.

Congress does not meet until January.

The governor indicated strongly he might make his home in Houston, after he assumes the duties of the new court.

Other towns in the district which have been under consideration are Galveston and Corpus Christi.

He laughingly observed in this connection: "Mrs. Allred has not made up our mind."

TIGERS CLAWED BIG BRONCS DISTRICT OPENING TUSSLE

STEWART, NEAL AND ROBINSON SCORED TOUCHDOWNS FRIDAY EVENING

By PAUL MOORE Sun Sports Editor.

Rising to the heights of former years when Corsicana Bengal hordes swept over the Central Texas eleven and then into wider territories, the Tigers Friday night smothered the titular hopes of the Bryan Broncos at Bryan, 18-6.

The score does not begin to tell the story of the band of blocking, charging and tackling boys. The few fans who made the long trip to the Brazos county capital were hysterical with joy as the Bengals showed the field the defense of the Broncos practically all night. One thing can be said for the Broncos, however, they fought throughout and never stopped until they were carried from the field with injuries.

The fighting, dogged Broncos stopped several Tiger drives with the shadow of their goal line. But the Tigers, in a back-drag, passing running—a real odd-ed figure bobbing up here, there, everywhere on the field.

Broncos Stopped. Bryan's attack was nullified in the latter part of the game—no yard was gained in the final period. The Bengals, however, defense bottled up and slapped down everything tried by the home club.

As your correspondent sat in the press box watching the mighty struggle between the glory boys of the great Bengals and former years kept creeping into our thoughts—of the days when the Tigers were lords of this district.

Great Line Play. Playing as a well-oiled machine, the backs behind a great line moved up and down the field with machine-like regularity. Robinson, starting fullback, was a demon throughout the game—end, Hedrick and Brewer, tackles; Locke and Hart, guards; Ware, center; L. Daniels, punter; Nelson and Johnson, backs.

Officials: Referee, Roach, Bayliff, umpire, Wolfe, Baylor, head linesman, and Pemberton, Ohio, line judge.

TO MAKE SURVEY IN CONNECTION WITH COTTON LABORATORY

HILLSBORO, Sept. 24.—(Sp.)—Burt C. Nelson, chairman of the state-wide cotton committee of Texas, announced today that W. B. Van Arsdale, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., would make a survey of several Texas cities in connection with the possible location of a cotton research laboratory under the terms of the agricultural adjustment act of 1938.

The cities to be visited are: Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Waco, College Station, Austin, and Lubbock. A representative of the department has already visited in Lubbock.

Mr. Jackson said that he strongly hoped that other Texas cities be visited for a survey, but that the department notified his committee that the cities named would be visited. He stated that Houston had officially visited in favor of College Station, and that the department was so notified, but that even in the case of the city of Waco, Houston was placed upon the itinerary.

Mr. Van Arsdale will look at all sites to be offered, and will compare the results with information from each territory visited. The itinerary follows: September 26—Fort Worth. September 27—Dallas. September 28—Waxahatchie and Waco. September 29—College Station. September 30—Houston. October 1—Austin.

Ennis Man Was Killed In Crash Just North Rice

Edward Joseph Bush, aged 32 years of Ennis, was fatally injured in an automobile accident several miles north of Rice Thursday night. The accident occurred in Ellis county.

A Southwestern McCammon ambulance answered the call and Bush was pronounced dead when he reached a local hospital.

The body was taken to Ennis Friday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Alton Bradley answered the call and reported Friday that Bush was walking along the highway and was struck by an automobile driven by Bruce Freeman of Blooming Grove.

Freeman was allowed to go to his home Thursday night after relating circumstances of the accident.

In the fourth period. A first down was made to midfield and then a lateral. Crews to Spencer gained 20 yards. Robinson drove 5 yards but the drive bogged down on the Bryan 13-yard stripe. Bryan was forced to punt when the stout forward wall refused to budge and Corsicana put the ball in play on the Bryan 47-yard line. Linebacker Plunkett, for 8 yards. Robinson clipped a 23-yard pass to Spencer to the Bryan 8 yard line. Robinson was thrown for a 7-yard loss when no pass was caught and he was forced to run with the ball. Spencer picked up 11 but the ball went over on downs to Bryan on her 11-yard zone.

Field Drive. The Golden Tigers broke through to spill the lugger for a 6-yard loss and Corsicana put the ball in play after the punt on the Bryan 27 from which point the third down final play was made. Spencer, Spencer clipped 8 yards. A 5-yard penalty resulted and then Robinson cracked over for yards gain. Gonzales went through for 4. Robinson made 2 and Crews 3. Robinson played over, landing on his head for the touchdown, but missed the point after from placement.

Corsicana Starting Lineups: Ends: Andrews and Johnston, tackles; Paschall and Weatherby, guards; Prewitt, center; Stewart, quarter; Spencer and Crews, halves; Robinson fullback. Bryan: DeLuka and Giffins, ends; Hedrick and Brewer, tackles; Locke and Hart, guards; Ware, center; L. Daniels, punter; Nelson and Johnson, backs.

Officials: Referee, Roach, Bayliff, umpire, Wolfe, Baylor, head linesman, and Pemberton, Ohio, line judge.

Substitutes: Corsicana—Long, Montfort, Plyler, Lawhorn, Gile, Gathright, Neal, Gonzales, Pace, and Plunkett. Bryan—Scanlan, Walton, Bryan, Fickler, L. Ball, Ben, Barrow, Foster.

OFFICERS SEEKING CONNECT WOUNDED MAN OTHER CRIMES

STATE HIGHWAY PATROL IS EXPECTED RETURN JACK WATKINS TO AUSTIN

Jack Watkins, 33 years of age, patient for the past several days at the P. and S. Hospital suffering with gunshot wounds sustained in a highway patrol car taken to Austin under the direction of the state highway patrol division of the department of public safety, it was learned Friday morning.

Watkins is charged with burglary here in connection with the entering of the Tillman Reed cafe in Kerens several nights ago. Reed fired two charges of buckshot at a man allegedly leaving his car with several cartons of cigarettes.

Wounded Both Legs. The injured man is suffering wounds in both legs. He has been under the care of deputy sheriffs and highway patrolmen since he was admitted to the hospital.

J. C. Jacobs, assistant criminal district attorney, revealed Friday the statement of the Dallas office of the highway patrol, today a statement Thursday from Watkins who is to be charged and tried in connection with the recent shooting of Highway Patrolman Tom Gassaway at Madisonville, Sept. 5, Texas Ranger Kelly Rush took a statement Wednesday.

Jacobs said the local criminal district attorney's department and sheriff's office had agreed to release Watkins to the highway patrol as soon as he can be moved.

Ranger Kelly intimated that Watkins had been implicated in numerous burglaries and car thefts in Texas and Oklahoma in recent months. The wounded man was identified by officers as an ex-convict.

Other Charges Planned. An assault with intent to murder charge will be pushed at Madisonville, officers said, in connection with the shooting of Gassaway.

Constable A. H. Holloway and other Navarro county officers are continuing their investigations into the matter.

A car stolen in Kerens and other allegedly missed at Mt. Pleasant were recovered at Kerens shortly after the shooting escape in which Watkins was wounded and captured.

Officers believe Watkins was accompanied by one or more accomplices the night he was shot, but no arrests have been reported.

HITLER WANTS BUTTER

There is a current popular nursery rhyme about the king who felt aggrieved when it was suggested that he use marmalade instead of butter. "Many people like it when it's very thickly spread." Either the king had been instructed or he knew his vitamins by instinct. "Nobody, my darling, could call me a fussy man, but I do like a little bit of butter on my bread!"

Hitler himself may have enough butter. Or he may like marmalade. But the German people want butter. Hitler is dictator today. But in the long run the people rule. More butter is imperative.

In one of the Nurnberg speeches, bragging about fortifications (not yet finished), about standing against a blockade (not yet threatened), Hitler said that the Reich had fats enough to sustain the people for seven and a half months without getting any from outside. The statement suggests close count and meager rationing. It doesn't mean butter and cream and cream cheese, as it might in this country, with all the lard, drippings and vegetable fats just casually thrown in as part of the cooking process. The statement said fats for seven and one half months, and it meant exactly what it said.

The German people suffered horribly for lack of fats in the World War. They have not had since then what the American people would think enough. A blockade would sharpen that need in a short time past all bearing. The German people will not take this time what they took before. Nor should they. Many of them know, too, that without Hitler, without war, without petty nationalism butter could be secured by peaceful means. They are not all so sheep-like as they sound when Heiling.

Sooner or later there is going to come a choice between Hitler and butter. Hitler knows this. It will come sooner if there is war. Hitler wants the cows and pigs of Czechoslovakia. He hoped, until the last few days, to get them without war. Hitler doesn't really want war. What Hitler wants is butter. The tragedy is that with Hitler in the saddle there may have to be war before butter.

SPEED

The city council of Lock Haven, Pa., is up in arms not only against motorists speeding through town at a dangerous clip, but against the railroad trains. It has ordered the police to arrest the engineer and conductor of any train traveling at an "excessive rate of speed."

The question then arises, what is an excessive rate of speed? The police and the railroad people probably won't agree about it. Nor the courts, either. Nor the public. The one thing certain is that it runs into higher and higher figures.

As a practical operation, too, those police may find it hard to catch the speeding engineers and conductors. Now you see them and now you don't. You might dislocate your neck watching 'em pass. Whiz! and they're through town.

The owner of Blarney Castle has refused an offer of $500,000 from a Los Angeles syndicate to rent the Blarney Stone for a year. Quite right! There's too much blarney in Los Angeles now.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

DINNER PARTY.
One of his guests was heard to whine:
"I'm tired of going out to dine!"
Another muttered: "Yes, I know. He asks us and we've got to go."
One of his friends remarked: "Instead! I'd much prefer to go to bed!"
The fourth one in an angry mood said: "I'm fed up on fancy food!"

The neighbors heard the fifth one shout:
"We've got to stop this going out to eat!"
And six and seven and eight and nine preferred to stay at home to dine.

Yet all that night along the street
Went hungry men with naught to eat.

NON-ARYANISM IN AMERICA

The most incredible thing that has happened in the United States lately is an act of the pro-Nazi German-American Bund which met recently in New York. As reported by the Associated Press, it voted unanimously to circulate a petition asking Congress to submit to the country a constitutional amendment barring non-Aryans from public office, particularly judicial and legislative. The resolution adopted by the 150 delegates says:

"In order to return to the principles which animated the framers of our Constitution, none but true white Gentile Americans, incorruptible, free from allegiance to any international organization or nation, should be elected as public officials."

"No hardship from such measures will accrue to the Jewish population of the United States, which exceeds 5,000,000, as Jewry has established in America an international government of its own."

Those delegates seem to belong at Nurnberg. They have swallowed the whole Hitler propaganda. Their statements invite and receive instant challenge. The delegates seem to know very little of "the principles which animated the framers of our Constitution," or of the public which accepted that organic law.

History records the honorable part that American Jews played in the winning of our independence and the establishment of our basic law. Our people are now asked for the virtual disfranchisement of millions of citizens on the basis of an alien doctrine refuted alike by history, science, common sense and common decency.

It is impossible to believe that those 150 infatuated delegates really represent the group in whose name they presumed to speak. The mere attempt to make any such racial limitation of American citizenship would arouse bitter and widespread racial warfare in this country, which politically recognizes no race but the American, to which all citizens belong.

JUDGES' WIGS

Lord Ragland, president of the British Association, is now being viewed with alarm by a considerable section of the British nation. He says he cannot understand why English judges and lawyers should persist in wearing wigs. Such talk is dangerous radicalism.

From the viewpoint of Americans, who discarded this professional custom a century ago, His Lordship seems to make a pretty good case. The idea has been that judicial wigs profession, "Numerous other people," he observes, "from King and Archbishop of Canterbury (heads respectively of state and church), have to keep up their dignity, but do not do it by wearing wigs."

Such a practice, still observed in France and some other countries, seem to Americans merely silly. Our legal profession, however, probably abolished wigs for the practical reason that they were uncomfortable.

Yes, a lot of our American boys 'rarin' to get started are just marking time, but that's better than hay-foot-straw-footing in a dictator's army.

MOVING DAY?

MORE GAS FROM OIL

Another miracle of chemistry was announced in Milwaukee the other day, in an address to the American Chemical Society, and a very profitable one if the figures are right. Prof. D. N. Ipatieff and A. V. Gross say that by a process they have developed they can get as much gasoline from 40 barrels of crude petroleum as was formerly extracted from 100 barrels.

This would result, according to their figures, in a yearly saving of 625,000,000 barrels of crude oil, nearly two-thirds of the annual production, if the method were applied throughout the oil industry. The quality of the gasoline is better, too, they say.

There must be some industrial losses involved along with the gains, because with so much more of the crude oil turned into gasoline there is less left for by-products, often very valuable in themselves. But obviously such chemical advances brighten the future of the motor industry and of the public using the fuel. A decade ago there was much gloomy talk about the petroleum supply running out and gasoline growing more scarce and expensive, possibly causing the automobile industry itself to go into a decline. We hear none of that lately. Besides ever-increasing efficiency in the extraction of motor fuel from crude oil, there are fuels being developed from other sources.

CLASS RIGHTNESS

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, speaking in a Rhode Island pulpit:

"If capital and labor are to carry on a relentless industrial class warfare, then religion and ethics have failed, the rule of righteousness in human responsibility has been destroyed. The American Federation of Labor steadfastly refuses to embrace such a philosophy or to accept such a pessimistic theory."

"If the church," he added, "is to win the masses of the people, we must seek and secure a wider application of religious principles and of religion itself, to human relations in industry."

All right, that's fine. Now let's see John Lewis get up in a pulpit, or use for a pulpit anything that happens to be handy, and make the same kind of declaration. And let the heads of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Bar Association and the National Association of Manufacturers — Tom Girdler

THE AMERICAN SHIRT

This is a good time for Americans to keep calm. Well, as calm as they can. The shirt should stay on.

The United States is not in a war. It reads its newspapers with eagerness. It listens to radio bulletins. It is interested in foreign affairs. But it is not in a war.

Good sense requires that the American think ahead a little, that he think out now, while he is calm, what he would like to have his country do, and what he as an individual can do to further that end. But it also requires that he refrain from jumping to conclusions. Europe has been in a good deal of a mess for a long time. It has hardly ever been free from war in the memory of man. It is in a worse mess today, and whatever seems to be settled today may be unsettled again tomorrow. The present mess may end by involving the world. But it has not involved the world yet.

The United States has lived through a good many wars, big and little. The stock market has taken nose dives before, and queer, sudden spurts upward, and wobbled for months. And the Constitution still stands.

SAFETY MARGINS.

The increasing speed of automobiles has brought one grave danger that drivers do not yet seem to realize. It takes time and experience to readjust our driving to 50 and 60 miles an hour, on good roads where the cars slide along so easily that we are hardly conscious of speeding.

The danger is the slight safety margin usually allowed on a two-lane road in passing a car going in the same direction, while a car is approaching from the opposite direction. Two experts of Yale University find that in one-tenth of the cases, the time actually allowed by the car passing from behind, to get ahead before the oncoming

Building Permit Totals Continue Show Increase

Three building permits amounting to $5,392 were issued from the office of the city engineer during the past week, bringing the total for the calendar year to $175,614.

The permits included: H. C. Bookout, 1719 Elmwood, new residence and garage, $5,000; W. D. Robinson, 1428 West Collins, general repairs, $142; M. W. Thomas, 1558 West Fifth avenue, repairs, $250.

Kerens Lions Will Join In Community Wide Charity Drive

KERENS, Sept. 24.—At the meeting of the Lions Club, held in the Kerens Hotel Thursday at 12:30, Mrs. M. O. Cheek, violinist, and Mrs. H. G. Smith, pianist, entertained with several numbers following the luncheon.

This was the monthly business meeting of the club and among other items attended to was voted to aid in a community-wide charity drive, with L. Murphy, Rev. Joe Everheart, and F. L. Hulan appointed to conduct the drive.

Plans were also made for either a style show or a home talent play to be presented in the near future. The committee appointed for this affair included R. F. Walker, chairman; Mrs. Bertha Nicholson and C. C. Hall.

Cotton Belt Improvements
KERENS, Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—The Cotton Belt railway is undergoing extensive repairs on its roadbed this week. Several carloads of gravel have been shipped in and a special crew is operating the complicated engine which is being used to spread the gravel.

Kerens Cotton Receipts
KERENS, Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—Reports from the three Kerens cotton yards show 10,201 bales of cotton weighed this season. This is 1395 bales less than had been weighed at this time last year.

ing car hits him, is less than one second. Most drivers must have noticed that the interval is often, short—just a wish, and you're through the rapidly closing gap and the other car is vanishing in the rear. Less than a second certainly is not time enough. Any little mechanical failure or misjudgment of the driver, and three cars would be badly mixed up.

REUNION OF 36TH DIVISION BE HELD FT. WORTH OCT. 8-9

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23.—(Cpl.)—Veterans of the 36th Division, meeting in Fort Worth Oct. 8-9, at their annual reunion, are assured of plenty of diversified entertainment. Local committees are perfecting plans for handling the largest reunion since the war.

Saturday morning, Oct. 8, will be given over to registration at headquarters in the Texas Hotel. Facilities are being secured to permit members of the various war-time units to have specified meeting places.

On Saturday afternoon the annual stag party will be held and it is promised that the program will be better than ever. Saturday night the annual dance will be given in the Crystal Ballroom of the Texas Hotel.

Plans are being worked out to keep the veterans entertained in additional ways so that none will find time on his hands. Reports from Oklahoma promise the largest turnout of veterans from that state to date, and word received from points in Texas indicate the Texans will arrive in much greater numbers than in past years.

Many distinguished visitors are expected to attend the reunion from both Texas and Oklahoma. Local committees of the Women's Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Hulse, president, are arranging for the entertainment of the families of the veterans and will have an enjoyable program laid out for them upon their arrival. Gold Star Mothers will be guests of the auxiliary.

Negro Found Dead Gun Shot Wounds Near Farm Home

Charles Hall, negro, about 60 years of age, was found dead in the front yard of his farmhouse 4 1/2 miles north of Corsicana about 6 o'clock Friday morning. He had been struck near the heart by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun, apparently fired at close range.

W. T. McFadden, justice of the peace, viewed the body and conducted a coroner's investigation. He returned the verdict "death from gunshot wounds, self-inflicted."

Judge McFadden reported that the gun apparently had been fired with a string tied to a porch post. Powder burns were noted. Members of his family reported they did not hear the report of the gun, and the first intimation they had of Hall's death was when they found his lifeless body in the yard.

T. E. L. Class of Kerens Baptists In Session Tuesday

KERENS, Sept. 23.—(Spl.)—Mrs. L. C. Vernon, hostess to the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist Sunday school at her lovely farm home, Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. Eleven members were present, with a special program giving the devotional, supplemented by individual scriptures, which she had assigned in advance.

Due to the fact that a meeting of the W. E. L. class at same hour caused a number of the members and guests to be late the program was not carried out as planned.

After a prayer by Mrs. J. E. Reese, color bearer, the teacher, the nominating committee presented names of the following officers who were unanimously elected: President, Mrs. Lula Sherrill; first vice president, Mrs. H. H. Brister; second vice president, Mrs. S. J. Jennings; third vice president, Mrs. Minnie Holland; teacher, Mrs. Hunter Ross; assistant teacher, Mrs. J. E. Reese; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Carroll; assistant secretary, Mrs. W. D. Arnett; treasurer, Mrs. J. F. Queen.

Chairman of flower committee, Mrs. Lilla Lindsey; first group captain, Mrs. L. C. Vernon; second group captain, Mrs. H. A. Barnett.

During the social hour which followed, iced lemonade and cookies were served.

Have Baby Daughter.
KERENS, Sept. 23.—(Spl.)—Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Vernon are announcing the arrival of a baby daughter in their home, who made her appearance last Friday. Mrs. McKinney will be remembered for the former Miss Sylvester Arnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Arnett.

Kerens Woman Ill.
KERENS, Sept. 23.—(Spl.)—Mrs. A. S. Pritchard, wife of grammar school Principal A. S. Pritchard, was carried to the Navarro Clinic in Corsicana Wednesday afternoon. Reports from her bedside today are that she remains in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Pritchard, who, before her marriage two years ago, was the much loved teacher of public school music, has the concern and prayerful hope for a speedy recovery to be entirely cure.

Beauty Diary

of Edna Kent Forbes

NIGHT TREATMENTS.

If you are apt to neglect your nightly beauty treatment, read Miss Forbes' advice today about it.

Frequently the night beauty treatment is taken half heartedly because the person feels she is too tired to make any further effort; yet it is just this treatment which is needed to relax the nervous tension, and put the nerves in a state for restful sleep. All beauty treatments are restful, whether the person is given by the person herself, or by the person herself, or by the person herself.

S. M. Blushing when persons speak to you comes from a lack of confidence in yourself. You may avoid it sometimes, if you can catch yourself before the flush suffuses your skin. In that instant, you should take a very deep breath and hold it, then another, and hold.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes' beauty booklet: (1) "Fifteen Minutes a Day for Beauty," (2) "The Finer Points of Beauty," (3) "Beauty and Bathing for Beauty." Send ten cents (in stamps) for EACH booklet, to pay for printing and handling and postage. Address: Edna Kent Forbes, c/o this paper.

Rice and Emhouse Battled To Tie In Six-Man Grid Game

RICE, Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—Rice staged a brilliant last minute rally against the Emhouse six-man football club to finish with a 12-12 tie last Friday.

Swarford of Rice threw a pass to Cave or 10 yards, trailed him and then took a backward pass as Cave was tackled, reversed the field and ran 20 yards for a touchdown behind good blocking by C. Fitzgerald, Brewer, Muff and P. Fitzgerald.

A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the melee.

Rice will invade Streetman next Friday for the second game of the season.

Trinidad Tigers Won Over Mildred Friday

TRINIDAD, Sept. 26.—(Spl.)—Trinidad Tigers opened the season here Friday afternoon with a 13-0 decision over the Mildred Eagles in a district 30-B conference engagement.

McCormick and Willis were offensive stars and Jones on the defense led Trinidad.

McCormick cut off right tackle, reversed the field and ran 75 yards for the first touchdown.

FORMER CORSICANAN PROMINENT IN OIL OPERATIONS, DIES

An article in the Wednesday issue of the Lake Charles American Press gave an extensive account of the activities of C. O. Noble, who died that morning there, in the oil industry of the state. The article stated that he was the leading figure in the development of the Southwest Louisiana oil area. It also told of his activities in the oil industry in Texas and stated that he came to Lake Charles from Corsicana as a drilling contractor.

Mr. Noble began his oil activities in the Corsicana fields with P. M. Lea and son, Preston, oil operators, later being connected with W. C. Strubbing, oil producer.

Hines Trial Set For Nov. 14
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Trial of Tammany district leader, James J. Hines, on policy racket conspiracy charges, was set today for Nov. 14 in general sessions court by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

PRESIDENT

Great Britain and Daladier of France, earnestly asked them not to break off negotiations looking to a peaceful, fair and constructive settlement of the questions at issue.

He told them war's consequences were "incalculable," that millions of men, women and children would lose their lives, the economic system of every country involved was "certain to be shattered" and their social structure "may well be completely wrecked."

The president and Secretary Hull spent most of Sunday working on the message they felt they could not hold up any longer.

Well after midnight, correspondents, American and foreign, were called to the state department and handed copies of the telegram. The message thus was so timed as to be received by Hitler, Benito, Chamberlain and Daladier when they rose this morning to look on a war-threatened Europe.

All People Pray for Peace
Daladier's telegram was sent to him care of the French embassy in London, where he is conferring with Chamberlain.

Telling them that "the fabric of peace on the continent of Europe, if not throughout the rest of the world, is in immediate danger," the president declared:

"It is my conviction that all people under the threat of war today pray that peace may be made before, rather than after, war."

Mr. Roosevelt carefully stated that "the United States has no political entanglements" and "is caught in no mesh of hatred."

He was believed thereby to be claiming for this country the privilege of appealing for peace because it had not declared for one side or the other.

"The supreme desire of the American people," he said, "is to live in peace. But in the event of a general war they face the fact that no nation can escape some measure of the consequences of such a world catastrophe."

"The tradition policy of the United States has been the furtherance of the settlement of international disputes by pacific means."

Kellogg-Briand Pact.
Mr. Roosevelt also called to the attention of the four European leaders the fact their nations are signatories to the Kellogg-Briand Pact outlawing war and have treaties of arbitration and conciliation for settlement of difficulties.

"Whatever may be the differences in the controversies at issue," he told them, "and however difficult of pacific settlement they may be, I am persuaded that there is no problem so difficult or so pressing for solution that it can not be justly solved by the

Hubbard Defeated Frost Friday 20-6

HUBBARD, Sept. 26.—(Spl.)—Hubbard scored a touchdown during the first half here Friday afternoon to clinch a 20-6 victory over the Frost club. The visiting eleven put over its touchdown in the last minute of the game.

Stephenson was the outstanding performer for Frost in the backfield. Brazell stood out for the Hubbard club and ran one punt back for 60 yards and a touchdown.

Hubbard will entertain Blooming Grove next Friday afternoon. The game here with Frost was a 30-0 conference tilt.

resort to reason rather than by the resort to force.

Remarking that the people and government of the United States have earnestly hoped for a successful conclusion of the present negotiations, the President said:

"So long as these negotiations continue, so long will there remain the hope that reason and the spirit of equity may prevail and that the world may thereby escape the madness of new resort to war x x x once they are broken off reason is banished and force asserts itself."

"And force produces no solution or the future good of humanity."

May Have Effect on Speech.
Officials hoped the telegram would reach Hitler while the draft of his speech, to be delivered tonight, was still fluid and would have a definite effect on what he would say.

The telegram was interpreted as both an appeal and a warning. When the President said the fabric of peace in Europe, if not throughout the world, is in immediate danger, he meant, informed officials said, the European leaders might find nations outside Europe drawn in against one side or the other.

It also was interpreted as a warning to the American people that, however isolationist some might want to be, they could not escape the consequences of war. "No nation can escape some measure of the consequences of such a world catastrophe," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt's telegram was addressed only to the leaders of four states, whereas others, Soviet Russia, Poland and Hungary are also involved in the present crisis. It was felt here, however, that Soviet Russia would not move to the aid of Czechoslovakia unless France moved, and Poland and Hungary would not move against Czechoslovakia on behalf of Polish and Magyar minorities in that country without Germany. Hence the appeals to Germany and France cover those nations as well.

the feeling that he will be fighting for a just cause if he has to go to war.

While this feeling exists, one hears the belief expressed among all classes that there will be no war. Perhaps the wish is rather to the thought, but the presence of the wish is an influence for peace.

War Will Be Short.

I asked the workman if there would be war. He said he thought not and added:

"If there is a war it will be short. We shall have to fight only Czechoslovakia and Russia. England, France and America won't come in."

It is true that the blood of some of the youths of Germany—especially those who are making the army a career—moves faster at the sound of rolling drums and clanking sabres. They've never seen the horrors their fathers knew and war still holds a glamor for them. Yet, even these boys, as a whole, don't want to see death on the battlefield.

For many millions of the population the memories of the last war are still a nightmare. They escaped the terrors of invasion and clanking sabres. They've never seen the horrors their fathers knew and war still holds a glamor for them. Yet, even these boys, as a whole, don't want to see death on the battlefield.

Had Cross to Bear.
I came into Germany with the British army of occupation after the World War and local authorities begged us for food and clothing for the people. The suffering of the unfortunate in invaded allied territories had been so much greater that the German trials seemed very mild at the time. Looking back now I can see that Germany had her cross to bear, too.

The people were hungry. Little nourishing food remained in the country because of the allied blockade. They were lucky who had soggy, soggy bread made from potato scrapings. The faces of children of the poor were pinched and lined so that they looked like tiny old men and women. Many suffered rickets, since butter and other fats had disappeared from the markets long before. They were cold from lack of shoes and warm clothing.

It is a vastly different picture one sees now. Everywhere are rosy cheeks and sturdy bodies. The physical development of the children and the young men and young women of Germany is magnificent. That was one of the first things that struck me as I started to move through the country.

There was small wonder the people don't want to go back to war days.

EMHOUSE FHA WAS WELL REPRESENTED ELLIS COUNTY FAIR

EMHOUSE, Sept. 26.—(Spl.)—Saturday, Sept. 24, was Future Farmer Day at the Ellis County Fair, and the Emhouse F. F. A. was well represented. The poultry team composed of Jim Love, James McMillan and Merrill Brown, placed third, only 72 points below Cayuga, the first place winner. In the crops contest Ennis and Kaufman tied for first. Emhouse placed fourth in this contest. The team members were Fred Richards, J. E. Bewley and Billie Joe Stokes. The livestock contest was won by Ferris while Emhouse placed sixth. Damon Williams, Warren Gray, Willie Champion made up the team and Bessie Collins the alternate.

In the Future Farmer and open class competition or prizes the Emhouse chapter won three first places, three second and two third places on crops and poultry.

There were 21 boys who made the trip to the fair to take in F. F. A. Day at Ennis. The chapter plans to have a both, show products and enter contests at the Blooming Grove and Corsicana Fairs.

Three members of the state champion entomology contest, Benjie Collins, Damon Williams, and Clifton Jackson, will leave in October to compete for national honors at Kansas City. This contest was won last school year.
